History

🔔 Reminder:

History is the memory of humanity, the record of its events, and the archive of its lessons. It is a witness for and against humanity throughout life. We are interested in the history of the Muslim world in particular and the history of humanity in general, especially American history. We reflect on the critical junctures in history and broaden the horizons of our students as they learn about the rise and demise of nations and empires.

History helps us understand reality, as contemporary circumstances and issues that are typically similar to past issues and circumstances.

As the Arabic proverb says: ما أشبه الليلة بالبارحة How similar is this night to yesterday. The western proverb states history repeats itself.

Minute details will not be emphasized as they will detract from the focus of the lessons learned from the main events in history.

This can be done by giving some of them an assignment to prepare a lesson in those sections and to give a speech in front of the family, and the instructor can also hold discussions among them if he/she sees it to be appropriate.

The instructor can also begin all or most of his educational sessions with a sermon in which he/she touches upon one of these topics.

The references are many and available in Arabic and English. However, we hope that the educator will find on this list, what will help him/her achieve his/her mission in this serious practical aspect of Muslim life. And one should always remember the words of the Messenger of Allah (PBUH) "I was sent to perfect honorable morals." (إِنَّمَا بُعِثْتُ لِأَتَمِّمَ مَكَارِمَ الْأَخْلَاقِ).
